ABOUT US

The Cascadia Region Green Building Council is the leading green building organization in the Pacific Northwest, Alaska and British Columbia concerned with making change in the built environment for positive environmental impact. As a cross-border education and advocacy organization we bring a unique perspective to green building by taking a bioregional approach to problem solving and market transformation. We endeavor to make significant change out of all proportion to our size, by acting as a catalyst and a lever for organizations in both the private and public sectors through creative programs, events and tools.

BECOME A MEMBER! If you care about green building in the Pacific Northwest, Alaska and British Columbia then you need to become a member and get active. Membership entitles you to many benefits, including discounts on Chapter events and conferences, voting rights to help steer the organization and more. For more information look for the Cascadia Membership Brochure or visit us at www.cascadiagbc.org

JOIN A BRANCH! Want to get involved and volunteer? Cascadia has many active 'Branch' organizations throughout the region that put on events, become active in advocacy issues and build resources for green building locally. Our Branches are always looking for new help and ideas. Visit our website for more information.

BECOME A FRIEND OF CASCADIA! We encourage all companies to become members of the US and Canada Green Building Councils officially and to become a part of our Friends of Cascadia program. Our Friends program provides critical financial resources to our organization and entitles sponsors to a wide range of marketing and publicity. See our Sponsorship Brochure or the website for more details.
