

Henriquez Partners Architects

Henriquez Partners Architects founded in 1969, is an established dynamic firm dedicated to making meaningful contributions to our communities by creating culturally sustainable, conceptually unique, and memorable buildings of lasting quality.

We are searching for a leader to become our Director of Sustainability.

The Director of Sustainability will be an active member of the business development team and provide expert advice to help clients make informed decisions regarding building projects, operations and energy management, asset management, and capital planning.

The successful candidate will:

- Have a minimum of 7 years sustainability experience
- Have a joint discipline degree or degrees that provide a background in both design and sustainability
- Have a professional designation, P. Eng or MAIBC (Licensed Architect)
- Have a LEED AP designation with a focus on Building Design and Construction
- Have recognized leadership in sustainability (by speaking engagements, academic papers or articles)
- Have exceptional technical, communication (written and oral) skills
- Have experience in the facilitation of the integrated design process, eco-charettes, creating daylight modeling, and energy modeling
- Have undergone the LEED documentation and certification process as the primary contact on multiple projects from initial design to occupancy
- Have a current understanding of sustainability literature and research with practical applications to constructed projects
- Establish and maintain project criteria and communicate it to the project team.
- Maintain effective liaison with multiple project teams, their consultants and their clients
- Contribute to the creation of sustainability fused seamlessly with design
- Contribute to the overall sustainability initiative and research within the office
- Posses strong analytical and problem-solving skills
